LSCU Honors Alabama Senator Katie Britt as 2023 Federal Lawmaker of the Year

WASHINGTON, DC – The League of Southeastern Credit Unions (LSCU) is excited to announce that U.S. Senator Katie Britt has been named the 2023 Federal Lawmaker of the Year in Alabama. She was formally honored this week at the America’s Credit Unions Governmental Affairs Conference in Washington, D.C.

"Local credit unions play a vital role in supporting Main Street communities across Alabama, from equipping small businesses and families with the resources they need to providing capital to the most underserved Alabamians," said Senator Britt. "I am proud to partner with our state’s local financial institutions to ensure that every hardworking Alabamian, regardless of zip code, has the opportunity to achieve their American Dream."

After being nominated by the Federal Advocacy Policy Committee, Senator Britt’s nomination was unanimously approved by the LSCU Board of Directors following discussion of her unrelenting support for credit unions and their legislative priorities.

"The daughter of two small business owners, Senator Britt understands firsthand the challenges our members deal with on a daily basis as it pertains to burdensome regulation and legislation. Senator Britt has stood as a safeguard against proposals that would negatively impact consumers and upend the safety and security of the current payment system. Her steadfast support and leadership in DC are why we are proud to call her our friend and 2023 Lawmaker of the Year," announced Grace Newcombe, Vice President of Federal Advocacy and Communications at LSCU.

Senator Britt serves on the Senate Committee on Appropriations, the Senate Committee on Banking, Housing, and Urban Development, and the Senate Committee on Rules and Administration. She is also the Ranking Member of the Homeland Security Subcommittee.

We are grateful to Senator Britt and appreciate her service on behalf of our 2.2 million members across the State of Alabama.
